

POTASH NEWS

ST. JOHNS: American West Potash Public Meeting on Monday, March 19

A public meeting about the plans of American West Potash is scheduled for Monday, March 19th in St. Johns. Featuring a presentation by AWP President Pat Avery followed by a question-and-answer session, the meeting will be held from 6-7:30 in the Apache County Board of Supervisors Chambers, Apache County Annex, 75 West Cleveland, St. Johns. This location is a change from previously announced plans.

SNOWFLAKE: American West Potash Public Meeting on Tuesday, March 20

A public meeting about the plans of American West Potash is scheduled for Tuesday, March 20 in Snowflake. Featuring a presentation by AWP President Pat Avery followed by a question-and-answer session, the meeting will be held from 6-7:30 at the Northland Pioneer College Silver Creek Campus, 1611 S. Main St., Room 101 in the Learning Center. This location is a change from previously announced plans.

Events planned for April and May are listed in the Calendar of Events on www.holbrookbasin.org.

About Holbrook Basin Horizons

Holbrook Basin Horizons (HBH) is a project of the Little Colorado RC&D. It supports community engagement in planning for potash mining in the area, providing outreach, education and coordination among stakeholder groups and project proponents. The objective is to achieve more satisfactory processes and better results. The scope of issues addressed includes environmental, economic and socio-cultural topics.

For more information see www.holbrookbasin.org or send email to info@holbrookbasin.org.

POTASH NEWS is available on the "HBH Newsletters" page of the website.